EIGHT THOUSAND SERBS TAKEN

Pursuit Being Pressed by Invaders, Who Are Fiercely Attacked

PUNISHING BULGARS

Serbs Contesting Every Foot of Ground Against Movements of Austro-Germans.

Berlin, Nov. 16—Announcement is made by the war office of the capture of 8,500 Serbians, with twelve cannon. Of these, 7,000 prisoners and six cannon were taken by the Bulgarians. Pursuit of the Serbians is being continued all along the front.

Farther west 1,733 more Serbians including thirteen officers and two cannon, were taken by the forces of Generals Gallwitb and von Koevess, who have thrown back the Serbians along their entire line after hard fighting.

The Bulgarians under General Boyadyeff are co-operating with the Austro-Germans in their westward drive from the Southern Morava.

London, Nov. 16—Eight thousand and eight hundred Serbians have been captured by the Teuton and Bulgarian invaders during the last forty-eight hours.

The captured Serbs belonged to what until a few days ago was the "main Serbian army," but what is now dissolved into a swarm of small detachments scattered all over the mountainous region in central and western Serbia, mainly in the vicinity of the Montenegrin frontier, where Bulgars and Austrians are trying to effect a completion of the iron ring.

Berlin says the Serbs have been thrown back along the entire line "after hard fighting" thus again illustrating the stubbornness of the defenders in yielding only inch by inch.

It is now clear to local military observers that the Serbians are not in a "wild wholesale flight," mainly because the nature of the ground along which they are now retreating makes such a flight neither possible, nor necessary. Nor are the pursuing invaders, according to semiofficial admission from Sofia in a position to push the pudsuit in a massed, concentrated line. Heavy artillery has become virtually useless in the mountain passes in which the Serbs are now establishing themselves for a life or death defense, a "guerilla warfare," as a statement emanating the Bulgarian capital says.

Nevertheless according to the same statement, the Serbs are falling into the hands of the invaders "at a rate of 1,000 or so a day."

Reports from allies' sources regarding the fighting in southern Serbia and the strip of Bulgarian territory invaded by the Franco-British expeditionary force, continue to be optimistic, and everything points to increasing violence in the fighting there. The news of the plight of King Peter main forces was offset somewhat—from the allies' point of view—by a dispatch from Saloniki that the French have forced the Bulgars back and are moving toward Kosturino inflicting heavy losses on their Balkan adversary.

A later statement issued by the war office with regard to the Orient army follows:

"There has been intermitted cannonading in the region of Robóva and towards Krivolsk.

"On November 13, a violent action took place on the left river of the Grona, where the Bulgarians are continuing their attacks without success.

"Our troops are coming in closer and closer touch with the Serban detachments operating in the Prilep region."

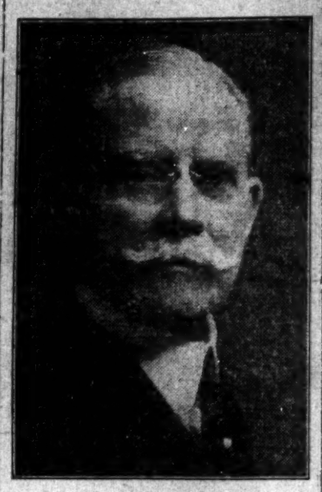
NOW THE TIME TO ADVERTISE

National Cash Register Head, Foreseeing Prosperity, Spends $200,000 This Month

Dayton, Ohio, November 16—In the convention of salesmen of the National Cash Register Company gathered here from all parts of this continent, reports were made indicating the general improvement of business everywhere. Out of the eight hundred salesmen present, all but one said that his territory was moving fast toward a business boom.



JONH H. PATTERSON.

On the basis of these reports, John H. Patterson, president and general manager of the Cash Register Company, predicted that the approaching era of prosperity would probably exceed anything this country has ever known.

"The boom is on," says Mr. Patterson. "Agricultural interests are the first to feel it. The farmers have record-breaking crops with a big demand. Confidence has been re-established. Various industries have picked up, one after another. Then the stores needed goods, and factory wheels began to move. Then commerce and transportation reflected the change. Finally, it was manifest in the financial world. We have plenty of money and the best banking system in the world today.

"All this great prosperity cannot come in a day. It will take time. But conditions everywhere are improving. The farmers are prosperous. The mills of Pittsburgh are busier than ever before. Railroad stocks are going up. It is only a question of a short time before the wave of prosperity will be upon us.

"Now is the time for storekeepers to advertise," added Mr. Patterson. He is backing up his opinion with his money. His company is spending more than $200,000 this month for advertising.

BLASTS WAY OUT OF JAIL.

Prisoner Blows Lockup to Pieces With Dynamite Caps.

Middletown, Del. Nov. 16.—Thomas Skaggs escaped from the Townsend jail Saurday by blowing the jail to pieces with some dynamite caps that he had in his pocket.

Skaggs was arresed for wife beating and placed in the Townsend jail which is a one-story, wooden structure about 50 years old. The officers failed to search Skaggs and as soon as he was alone he took the dynamite caps from his pocket and exploded them. One side of the jail was torn away, but Skaggs escaped injury. He took the first train to this town where he was arrested by Railroad Detective William A. Palmer.

TAKES LIFE ON BRIDAL TRIP

W. H. Gooch, of Clarksville, Va., Shoots Himself on Train

Lexington, N. C., Nov. 16—A telegram was received here yesterday announcing that W. H. Gooch, reputed to be a wealthy citizen of Clarksville, Va., had shot and killed himself yesterday morning at Weimar near Dallas, Tex. Mr. Gooch married Miss Margaret Radcliffe, of this city, about a month ago, and left on a bridal trip to the San Francisco fair. It was while returning and on the train that he shot himself. Mr. Gooch was about fifty years of age, and his bride was a beautiful young woman. Yesterday was the young bride's birthday, and Mr. Gooch is said to have promised her a surprise. He is said to have a daughter by a former marriage in Richmond.

GREEK ATTITUDE CAUSES ANXIETY

Allies Demand Government Unequivocally Define Position

GERMAN ASSURANCES

Fight for Serbia Still Going on, But Progress of Invaders is Reported to be Slow.

London, Nov. 16—The intimation of the Greek government that any allied troops seeking refuge in Greek territory will be disarmed has been the cause of considerable anxiety to the entente powers, and, consequently Earl Kitchener's visit to the Near East is gaining increased prominence.

According to belated dispatches from Athens, Greece bases her decision on international law, while the entente powers contend that the right accorded to troops to enter the country through Saloniki permits them to retire by the same route, should it become necessary for them to do so. The ministers are demanding that Greece unequivocally defined the attitude she will observe should such an eventuality present itself.

Besides the claims to the hospitality which the entente allies declare they have on Greece, in view of the then Premier Venizelos's invitation to them to send a force to Saloniki to enable Greece to fulfill her treaty obligations to Serbia, which, however Greece repudiated, Earl Kitchener of the entente ministers are likely to draw the attention of King Constantine and his government to the fact that the constitutionalism of Greece was guaranteed by French, Russia and Great Britain, and that it was only obtained after Great Britain had ceded the Ionian lands to that country and three powers had agreed to contribute $20,000 yearly for the personal use of the King.

This, it is contended, binds the Greek people to the entente allies and, should King Constantine overrule the Constitution, which the followers of M. Venizelos said he did when he dissolved the Cabinet, it is thought in some quarters that King Constantine would be reminded that his retention of the throne of Greece depends on continuance of friendly neutrality towards the entente allies.

The Germans, on the other hand are declared to be assuring the Greek government that Greece will be protected against the entente allies should that country prefer the central powers, and that, as evidence of the ability of Austria and Germany to do this, are dispatching more submarines to the Mediterranean, which be used against any fleet threatening Greek ports.

Meantime, the fightfor Serbia proceeds without abatement.

BULLET KILLS SISTER.

Youth Handling Revolver Accidentally Shoots Her.

Hartboro, Pa., Nov. 16.—The accidental discharge of a revolver he was handling was responsible for Raymond Emery fatally wounding his sister Esther, aged 16, Sunday afternoon. She died within 35 minutes.

The two, son and daughter of Harvey Emery, a business man, were in an apartment of the Eemery home, the brother engaged in cleaning the weapon and the sister looking on, when it was discharged. Raymond, after the tragedy, declared he did not know the weapon was loaded.

GERMANY PLEASED BY NOTE

Significant Change Comes Over Public Opinion since Message Was Sent

Berlin, Nov. 16—An interesting and significant change has slowly come over German public opinion about the American note to England, as the people have had time to digest the document. For weeks nearly every German believed that if President Wilson ever should send a note to England it would be a mild affair. His determined spirit and language comes as a shock of surprise.

"One must assume that Germany has not bound herself to the United States government for eternity to fit the form of her submarine war to America's demands. The promise that preceded our giving in was that America would protest to England against the misuse of her paper blockade further.

"The Americans have kept their promise, but if they don't accomplish anything the day must come on which Germany will declare that she is no longer able to abide by her self-imposed limitations."

Raphael Predicts Eventual Victory for the Allies.

The stars foretell a victory for the Allies, according to Raphael, the English seer, who has just published a prophetic almanac.

Raphael predicts the ultimate triumph of the Allies, but only after severe setbacks and a tremendous cost in men and treasure. He sees in the planets personal danger for the Kaiser in the spring and the ultimate dismemberment of the German Empire. A new era for France and Russia and great things for Italy are written in the stars, he declares.

FAY CONFESSES MISSION TO U. S.

Gives Life to Assistant District Attorney in New York

WOULD PLEAD GUILTY

Statement Upon His Own Solicitation and Without Promise of Leniency From Authorities.

New York, Nov. 16—Robert Fay, self-styled lieutenant in the German army, and by his own confession head of a gang of bombmakers that sought to disable or destroy munition-laden ships sailing from New York to the entente allies, told the story of his life yesterday to Assistant United States District Attorney Knox. Fay talked for five hours without interruption. What he said was not made public, but Mr. Knox announced that Fay wanted to plead guilty to the government's charges against him.

P. J. McDonald, a lawyer appointed by the court to represent Fay, served on Mr. Knox notice of his intent to demur to the indictment. Fay read the demurrer, and, according to Mr. Knox, said he did not wish to demur to the indictment or to do anything but plead guilty and start at once to serve his sentence.

Fay's talk with Mr. Knox was upon his own solicitation and without promise of leniency. The statement carried him back to Germany, covered the high lights of his service in the German army, told in detail of his alleged mission to America and recited his activities here.

District Attorney Marshall said in some respects the statement was verified by information which the government had collected.

"There is no doubt," Mr. Marshall said, "that his name is Fay and that he served in the German army. As to the rest, we don't know. His statement differs somewhat from his previous story, but admits his guilt of the charges against him."

What Fay told Mr. Knox today leads back to a source to which already has been traced another case under investigation, according to Roger B. Wood, an assistant in Mr. Marshall's office, Mr. Wood has prepared most of the cases in the passport frauds, and also has prepared the government's case against Earl Buenz and other officials of the Hamburg-American Line, indicted on the charge of conspiracy and to be placed on trial this week.

"Five cases of this sort lead back to four sources," Mr. Wood said. "They are the Fay case, the Buenz case and the three passport cases. In none of the cases did the actual defendants know what the defendants in the other cases were doing. The four sources, however, directing these five cases are very close together—very. It is my belief that these four man all reported to and took their orders from a fifth man, who was the director of all the trouble of this sort in the United States.

"If you could prove this," Mr. Wood was asked, "would you or could you prosecute this fifth man?"

"All I can say to that," he replied, "is that under the law we cannot prosecute any diplomatis representative of a foreign country."

When Fay ended his statement he was taken back to the Tombs. He will be questioned by Mr. Knox tomorrow, as the statement contained many leads, it is said, about which the government's lawyers want more information.

Both Mr. Marshall and Mr. Knox declined to say if any one else was implicated in Fay's new statement.

FEAR LOSS OF STEAMER.

German Vessels May Have Been Destroyed by British Submarine

Copenhagen, Nov. 16.—It is feared today that German steamer Hermania had been destroyed by a British submarine, with the loss of her crew.

An empty lifeboat from the Hermania was found at the mouth of the Lulea river, northern Sweden.

The Hermania is not officially listed

"UNPARELLED ATROCITY"

So Italy Terms Sinking of Liner Ancona by Submarine

Washington, Nov. 16—Secretary Lansing has personally received from Macchi di Cellere, the Italian Ambassador, a comunication addressed by Italy to all neutral nations, denouncing as "an unparalled atrocity" the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona, with scores of neutrals and other noncombatants abroad.

The statement recites the circumstances of the attack, charging that "without even a blank shot" of warning from the attacking submarine the vessel was shelled, and that the killing and wounding of passengers continued after the ship had stopped. No reference is made to the nationality of the submarine.

Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page, at Rome, cables that his conferences at the Italian foreign office thus far have failed to develop the details or facts concerning the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona.

The Italian government, according to Mr. Page, is having considerable difficulty establishing just what occurred when the vessel went down. An investigation is under way however, and as soon as its results are known, Mr. Page will communicate it to Washington.

Secretary Lansing has been waiting to learn whether it was a German or Austrian submarine which destroyed the Ancona, and, therefore, has not instructed either Ambassador Gerard or Ambassador Penfield to call at the Berlin and Vienna foreign offices, respectively to ask for information.

WARNING TO GREECE.

Kitchener Says "Those Not For Us, Are Against Us."

Paris, Nov. 1—A warning to Greece is uttered by Earl Kitchener in an interview with Emil Hinzeline, chief editor of France de Demain, who talked with Kitchener when the latter was about to depart from England for the Orient.

"One thing that has been lacking as to the Balkan expedition," said Earl Kitchener, "has been close connection between the armies operating on the different fronts." Regarding the Balkan neutrals Kitchener's advice is:

"Don't let us say neutrals; rather let us demonstrate that our victory is certain and say that those who are not for us are against us."

These words, says the interviewer, had particular reference to Greece.

"What about Saloniki?" asked Hinzeline, adding "Germany is credited with a dream of possessing Saloniki."

"It is a dream that they cannot realize," was the reply.

M. Hinzeline adds that the slightest suspicion of a Greek attack would result in the Franco-British squadron smashing Saloniki. "Earl Kitchener" he added, "is taking the assurance to Greece that if she fulfills her duty toward Serbia, the allies will protect her from all danger."

SHAH LEAVES HIS CAPITAL.

Russian and British Diplomats Practically in Charge in Teheran.

Petrograd, Nov. 16.—Fearful that plotting and counter-plotting by the Germanic and entente allies' representatives will end in bloodshed in Teheran, the Shah has left the Persian capital with his ministers.

A Teheran dispatch received today says the Persian ruler's departure virtually a flight, occurred yesterday.

It is not stated what city was his destination, but it was understood several days ago that he would seek refuge in Ispahan. Presumably he will make that place his headquarters temporarily.

Cossacks are in control in Teheran. The entente powers' diplomatic representatives there have been accusing German and Turkish agents for some time of corrupting the Persian government in their own interest. To stop this, a Russian force was dispatched recently for the city. The Russians were in the vicinity several days ago, but whether they have entered yet is not known here.

The Germans and Turks, at latest accounts, were preparing to flee.

Russian and British diplomats in Persia, it is expected, will practically take over the Persian government if they did not do so simultaneously with the Shah's departure.

The roof was attractively decorated in autumn leaves, while dimmed lights here and there added greatly to the effect produced.

The reception was to have taken place at "Laburnum," the home of John Stewart Bryan, but he was called away from the city on account of the death of Captain Thomas Pinckney, of Charleston, S. C. PROTECTION FOR CITY

Urgent Demand For Installation of Fire Alarm System in Alexandria.

The committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchant's Association, the City Council, and the various fire companies of Alexandria met last night and discussed the recommendations of the underwriters for the improvement of the fire protection of the city.

It was agreed by the members of the committee that there was an urgent demand for a more adequate water supply and for the installation of a modern fire alarm system. The improvement to the fire apparatus will be met by the purchase of a combination pumping and chemical engine to cost $8,000. Negotiations for the purchase of this piece of apparatus has been practically completed by the fire committee of city council.

It was agreed last night to prepare a definate plan for submission to the fire committee of council and the chairman, Albert Smoot, will appoint a special committee to prepare this plan.

FIRE AT BENNING'S TRACK

Fifteen Race Horses Perish and $35,000 to $50,000 Worth of Property Destroyed

Flames of mysterious origin swept the old Benning race track near Washington, last night between nine and ten o'clock burned two men seriously killing at least fifteen race horses, and destroying eight stables and causing a final loss estimated between $35,000 and $50,000.

John Williams, 25 years old, of Memphis, Tenn., was trapped by the flames while asleep in a stable and was so badly burned that physicians at Casualty Hospital say he will die.

John Smith, colored, 29 years old, a stable employe, also was trapped while sleeping and was badly burned but probably will recover.

The northeastern heavens were illumined during the progress of the the fire, which attracted considerable attention in Alexandria. Many persons at first supposed the fire was at the steel plant, several miles north, but those who went to the river front saw it was farther away, most of the spectators locating the conflagration at Anacosta, or in that vicinity. A stiff northwest breeze was blowing at the time of the fre.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Interesting News Notes About People of Alexaxandria—Happenings In Society.

The Current Topics Club, met last evening and the meetings grow in interest each time as the actions of those engaged in war are presented and the opinions of those who have made it a study are discussed..

Very interesting proved the current topic of the latest development in medical science. The importance, hitherto unsuspected of the functions of three glands in the body, the secretions of these glands being necessary to the development of the human being.

The biography of John C. Calhoun was given in interesting manner and his reason for seeming to vacillate from progressive movements to conservative ones, was put forth in the example of administering different medicine for different ailments.

Edgar Allen Poe, who is conceded to have achieved more fame than any of our American poets, inspite of many of his lines being tinged with a ghoulish atmosphere was one of the entertaining numbers. Stanzas from the "Conqueror Worm," his own choice of his works, were read.

A singular coincidence was that both the statesman and poet for the evening discussion died at the age of forty.

The Club will not meet next week but the week following. On the program will be Webster as statesman, Lowell as poet and the war talk will cover a development of a fortnight instead of a week. The educational opportunity in such an entertaining manner is something that one should grasp if possible. There are seven more talks to be given at twenty-five cents each.

The pistol battle was the result of a quarrel started among the negroes soon after the train left Petersburg, and the ownership of twenty-five cents is said to have been the cause. Several of the negroes whipped out pistols and Laney and Haynes fell dead after the first round. James was wounded and died an hour after being removed from the car at Hopewell.

WHO HAS MADE THE "SACRIFICE"?

Emperor William returns thanks to the Krupp Steel Company for its donation of $5,000,000 to the relief fund for the families of Germans killed in battle, and declares it "worthy of the great name whose fame is brightened by this splendid initiative in social welfare and this willingness to make sacrifices." Another dispatch tells us that the Krupp Company has also announced its determination not to accept more than ordinary profits for the war implements it is turning out.

The Baltimore Sun in commenting upon the act of Kaiser says:

The Krupps may be a very patriotic company, but its patriotism has been well fattened on Government work. The amounts which it has made out of the engines of slaughter are beyond computation. It can afford to forego excessive profits at a time when Germany is fighting for her life, and to term its gift of $5,000,000 to bereaved German families a "sacrifice," when we recall its enormous gains before and since the war, is stating the case a little strongly to say the least.

Nevertheless, neither English nor American manufacturers of death can first cast a stone at the Krupps. No British firm, so far as we know, has made any similar contribution to the alleviation of national misery. They are merrily making all they can out of the war, apparently, and so are we. The stock of some of our great steel companies has shot up into the air like rockets, and our munition-makers are driving a prosperous trade. But we do not hear of any of them giving $5,000,000 to the relief of the unfortunates in Europe nor proposing to give their suplus profits to the Government to help it at a time it is very much in need or revenue.

The fact is, none of these pots can call any of those kettles black. Yet if American manufacturers of munitions have contributed to human wretchedness by the making and the sale of arms, to what degree of blood guiltiness must the Krupps confess, who have supplied the whole world with arms for a generation and but for whose deadly efficiency Germany would never have broken the peace of Europe? The Krupps rather owe the German widows and orphans that $5,000,000, it seems to us.

TERRIBLE TOLL OF WAR.

Germany's enormous losses in the fighting—chiefly on the Russian front—toward the close of September, losses since doubled if not trebled by the offensives on the western front and in the campaign against Serbia, are the subject of comment in a letter published from Horace Green, special correspondent of the New York Evening Post, written from Berlin on October 5. Mr. Green writes:

Today Germany is like a feverish patient to whom the leech has been applied—the war maniac whose blood has been drained. I worked for some time trying to get the proper figures of this blood-letting.

The German casualties for the single week ended October 1 were 61,995!

In other words, 61,955 German citizens, or more than 8,850 a day, have been killed, wounded, or taken prisoner during the last seven days of Russian warfare. Since it takes a week or more to compile the reports from the front, these figures can have no connection with the great fight of this week along the western front, where, during the renewed English-French offensive it is said that the losses were three times greater than any similar period of the war.

By far the greatest number of losses were sustained by the Prussians. It is reported that the Prussians alone have lost more than 2,000,000 men up to this date. In all cases the Prussian, Saxon, and Bavarian losses were grouped separately. In certain instances companies and even entire regiments were wiped out.

THE BALKAN SITUATION.

While the action of King Constantine in dissolving the Greek Parliament makes it plain that the Entente Allies need expect no active assistance from Greece, in the immediate future, at least, London would seem to be not without substantial foundation upon which to base its reported refusal to share the consternation which the disolution is said to have created in France. As is suggested the Norfolk Virginian Pilot, the French and English are credited with having already landed three hundred thousand men at Salonici and others are on the way, while Italy has definitely announced a determination to move to the help of the Serbs in considerable force. If the situation is correctly represented by these reports, the assumption is reasonably safe that opposition to the Teutonic movement in the Balkans will not immediately and completely collapse. More than that, with the Entente Allies now thoroughly aroused to the seriousness of conditions in the Near Eastern theatre of conflict and convinced that they themselves must deal with those conditions without assistance from either Greece or Roumania, extraordinary efforts will no doubt be put forth to prevent the rush of the Austro-German forces to Constantinople from being the comparatively easy task which it would appear to be from present surface indications. Indeed, there is ground for confident expectation that the Teutonic campaign in the Balkans will run very much the same course as has attended those on the Western and Eastern fronts. Their armies will succeed in smashing through to a certain point, at which their antagonists will rally sufficient strength to check further advances and hold them there. If the Entente Allies shall succeed in doing this in the Balkans, as they have already done it in France in Belgium, along the Russian border and in Galicia, an ultimate outcome in their favor will be practically assured. It is only a question of time, when victory will be theirs.

NEWS OF THE DAY

James Ogilvie Grant, Earl of Seafield, has been killed in action in France.

Mayor John Puroy Mitchel, of New York was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis yesterday evening. He rallied well.

From information received in Petrograd, a speedy decision by Roumania is indicated, but the part she will take in the war is not disclosed.

Two Austrian aeroplanes bombarded Brescia at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, killing seven persons and wounding ten. No material damage was done.

Announcement of the suspension of parcel post mail to Germany and Austro-Hungary was made yesterday by the Postoffice Department. The reason ascribed is that the steamship companies refuse to accept it.

A movement has developed among the friends of Associate Justice Joseph R. Lamar, to ask Congress for special legislation which will permit his retirement from the Supreme Court of the United States on full pay.

The French liner Espagne, with many passengers from the war zone, arrived in New York harbor last night. England today has 3,000,000 men actually under arms, according to Dr. Lee De Forest, one of the passengers. Of this number all but 500,000 are at the front.

The average daily losses in the Dardanelles for the entire period from May to October were 795, Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary undersecretary for war, told the British House of commons yesterday, The great bulk of these men, Mr. Tennant said, were the sick, who aggregated 90,000.

That the kaiser's plan to invade Great Britain's eastern possessions is about to be launched is indicated by advices from Constantinople, which say that the kaiser was expected there yesterday and that German officers are constantly arriving and being sent on into Asia Minor to prepare the way in conjunction with Turkish officers for the invasion of Egypt. The expedition is expected to start at once.

President Wilson has instructed Postmaster General Burleson to reinstate George Burkitt, removed as assistant postmaster at Winnetka, Ill., becaused he criticised the President for his engagement to be married. The President qualified his instructions by telling the Postmaster General that Burkitt, should be restored to his position if there were no other charges against him.

More than 3,000 anthracite mine workers employed by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, in the Panther Creek Valley, Pa., are now on strike, all the electricians of the company having left their work yesterday because several of their number had been suspended. The trouble started last week when 1,100 miners quit because some of the men went to work without their union buttons.

Accused of killing a friend during a card game three weeks ago. Donato Angelo, 31 years old, committed suicide Sunday morning in his cell in the jail at Cleveland. He tied one end of a sheet to the lower end of his cot and the other, in the shape of a noose, he tied about his neck, then thrust his feet against the wall and held himself rigid until he was strangled.

According to the president of a big Swiss bank, just back from Germany, peace agitation is beginning seriously to permenate that country. Huge demonstrations of several thousands women took place in Berlin, the banker says, Riots ensued and the police had to charge with drawn sabers. There were 200 victims, all women. The Germany censorship suppressed all reference to the disturbances.

A non-transferable railroad mileage book, sold under conditions that it would be forfeited if presented by any other than the original purchaser may not be forfeited if presented by the purchaser himself for transportation of another person. The Supreme Court of the United States so held yesterday in a case arising in South Carolina, where the railroad forefited a mileage ticket a man presented for transportation of his wife.

A decree of divorce on grounds of cruelty has been granted by the district court at Reno, Nev., to Lucy Wilson from Huntington Wilson. Wilson was Assistant Secretary of State under Philander C. Knox during the Taft administration. Wilson brought the suit, alleging desertion, but the court denied him relief and granted the decree to the wife, who set up a cross-complaint, alleging mental cruelty, extending over a period of several years. She was allowed to resume her maiden name, Lucy Wartham James.

Handicapped by the lack of specific laws to protect the nation's neutrality, the Department of Justice has turned to one of its old standbys and is investigating alleged war plots with a view to instituting criminal proceedings under the Sherman Anti-Trust act. The inquiry, it is learned, is directed particularly at plots supposed to have been formed in connection with efforts of pro-German and pro-Austrian sympathizers to cause strikes in munition plants in the United States.

A second war order has been refused by a Moundsville, W. Va., firm. The J. A. Schwob Company, was tendered an order for 3,000,000 gun stocks to be supplied at the rate of 50,000 a month. They turned down the order. A short time ago the Royal Gun Company was tendered a large order for guns, but refused to accept it. In both cases it would have been necessary to intall a lot of special machinery and both firms had all the work they could turn out without accepting any war orders.

No belligerent power will be asked by the United States to grant as a favor assurance of immunity from seizure for ships flying the American flag. The latter will be protested. This was made plain yesterday by State Department officials in response to inquiries as to the department's attitude toward the request of the Trans-atlantic Steamship Line that special representations be made to Great Britain in behalf of the steamer Winnebago, now held up at Buenos Aires for fear that British cruisers might seize her on the ground of German ownership.

Prof. Michael I. Pupin, whose inventions made long distance telephony possible, announced an invention in New York last night which he says will revolutionize wireless telegraphy and telephony. Prof. Pupin, has perfected a receiver which is sensitive only to such waves as the operator desires. This instrument, he said, is the one thing that is needed to make possible the transmission of wireless messages between any two points on the earth's surface. It will make these two arts commercially practicable over long distance and may sound the doom of the cable. The professor told of his invention during an address before the National Academy of Sciences, but declared he would not make his invention public until after the war.

Charles Tower, who is well acquainted with King Constantine of Greece, has just returned to Rome after a trip to the near East. "German agents have been assuring the Greeks that their submarines would prevent the allied fleet from exercising pressure against Greece," said Mr. Tower, "They have told the Greeks that the results of German submarine activity would soon be seen in the Mediterranean. "The sinking of the steamers Ancona and Firenze was useless and brutal, but a majority of the Greeks see in these acts only an apparent masterly of the Mediterranean. Orders to submarine commanders evidently are to sink everything sighted, with the object of impressing Greece so that she will throw her lot with Germany."

The body of a white man, supposed to be W. D. Adkins, from the name on his coat, was found on the railroad track between Hopewell and City Point Sunday morning, with the head and face crushed. CAUSED SCENE IN CHURCH

A Pro-German Denounces Gifford Pinchot While Giving Lecture as a Liar.

New York, Nov. 16—Enraged to violence by statements made by Gifford Pinchot in the course of an address at the Park Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday, a German sympathizer in the congregation left the pew in which he had been sitting, walked into the aisle of the church and shouted several times at Mr. Pinchot:

"You lie."

Mr. Pinchot gave no heed to the interruption, whereupon the man walked to the door of the church where he turned and shouted again that Mr. Pinchot had "lied about the Germans." The stranger then left the auditorium, slamming the door with such force that some of the persons thought a bomb had been exploded.

In the lobby of the building the pro-German saw a bulletin board bearing the announcement of Mr. Pinchot's address. He vented his anger on this by smashing it with his fist and then went his way. No effort was made to have him arrested.

CHILD'S HAND GROUND OFF.

Put It in Meat Grinder and Boy Scout Alone Saved Life.

Doylestown, Pa., Nov. 16—Seeing his father feeding a meat grinder, 3 year old Luther Bader, son of Arthur Bader, of Richlandtown, put his hand in the mouth of the machine when his father was not looking, and before the grinder could be stopped the child's hand and greater part of the fore-arm had been mangled.

The child's life was saved by the presence of mind of a boy scout, Vincent Faust, 12 year old son of Rev. J. N. Faust, who had been taught first aid methods, by applying a tourniquet to stop the flow of blood. The child, was removed to Grandview Hospital, Sellersville, and appears to be doing fairly well.

SEEKING DATA ON ANCONA

State Department officials were today still without the official information they seek to determine the attitude of the United States toward the recent sinking of the Italian liner Ancona by a submarine. Efforts to get information from the consuls and embassies abroad were extended. The department has many reports of rumors cabled by consuls, but they will not be given out for publication.

The United States government will await the receipt of the Austrian government's statement of facts.

Stomach Troubles

Persons who have stomach troubles are apt to become discouraged. They will see by the following that their chances of recovery are excellent. A. K. William, Independence, Va., tells of a remarkable cure that was effected in that vicinity. One of his customers was so badly afflicted with stomach trouble that he was sent to a hospital, but received little benefit and came home to die. Mr. Williams suggested that he try Chamberlain's Tablets which he did, and today he is a well man and weighs 175 pounds. Obtainable everywhere.
